

INVITATION AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Gambling Research welcomes the submission of articles for publication. Manuscripts may be submitted in one of the following categories:

- Original Research Articles
- Theoretical Analyses
- Literature Reviews
- Book Reviews
- Commentaries
- Case Notes

Manuscripts must be submitted electronically to: editor@nags.org.au.

All submissions must comply with the instructions for contributors below and will be subject to a full double blind peer review process subsequent to passing preliminary review by the Journal's Editors.

Papers should be no more than 7,000 words and should be accompanied by an abstract of between 100 and 150 words, setting out the main findings of the paper. Sexist or racist language should not be used and jargon or highly specialised language should be avoided where possible. Spelling should follow Australian conventions (eg. 'behaviour' not 'behavior'). The Macquarie Dictionary and the Oxford English Dictionary are both acceptable references on spelling. Statistics are acceptable but must be explained in simple terms.

The full names of all authors and their academic or other professional affiliations should be included on the title page. Also include the postal address, phone number, fax and email contact details for the primary author only. Link details and affiliations to authors through use of superscript numerals. A disclosure form must also be submitted (this can be obtained from www.nags.org.au or from the editors upon submission of article).

All submissions are to follow the specifications of the American Psychological Association 5th edition unless otherwise stated. For further examples of correct formatting please refer to volume 20 issue 1 (or later) of Gambling Research.

- The title of the article is to be left justified sentence case.
- All headings within the body of the article are to be left justified. First level heading is to be in bold, double spaced and in title-case. The second level of heading is to be italicised, double spaced, title-case. The third level of heading is to be italicised, sentence-case, paragraph heading.
- Text is to be fully justified.
- Do not include page numbers, headers, footers, formatted text or endnotes. Footnotes are permissible but should be used sparingly.
- Figures or tables must be in black and white only and should appear at end of the article, one per page. Indicate the approximate position of the figure or table within the text.
- Every figure or table must be titled. This is to appear above for a table and below for a figure, with the identifier in bold followed by a full-stop and the text in sentence case. For example 'Table 1. Participation in sports betting by jurisdiction'.
- The Harvard system of in text referencing is to be used. In the text, make reference to authors in the following manner:
Griffiths and Wood (2000) suggest that...

A recent study (Blaszczynski, 2008) showed....

More than one study (Bellringer, Perese, Abbott & Williams, 2006; Ohtsuka 1997) has found...

- If there are references to the same author in the same year, distinguish citations by adding a, b, c, etc to the reference e.g. Breen (2005a) argues that...
- References should be collected at the end of the paper in alphabetical order by the first author's surname, with full details of the publication, book or journal. The name of the publication in which the article appeared or the title of the book should be italicised.
- Internet sourced references should include sufficient information to obtain the reference. Include the retrieval date and URL. If the complete URL is not necessary to find the source, precede with 'Available from'.
